

Are you a retailer, wholesaler or local business?

Do you have samples, end of line or useable returned stock that you are unable to sell?

CEDA is a local charity that works with over 250 disabled adults and young people. We are currently looking to create new relationships with a number of local and national retailers who support their local community by donating goods to worthy causes.

We are always excited to hear from organisations that are keen to develop their social activities and we are always looking to develop new partnerships with retailers, designers and businesses to support all activities we offer at CEDA with disabled adults and young people both in our activity hub and in the community. We will never sell your donation but use them as rewards and incentives for our users, staff and volunteers. We can use them for fundraising purposes including raffle prizes.

We look for donations of:

- End of line stock
- Clearance
- Sale stock
- Samples

In return, the businesses that donate to us benefit from:

- A demonstrable corporate social responsibility activity
- Freed up cupboard, office, warehouse and storage space
- PR opportunities
- Knowing that they have made a positive contribution to their local community

We will usually try and collect your donations and can help with impact reporting to illustrate the value of your donations and how your generous donations help to support CEDA and disabled people across Devon.
